WOMAN QUESTIONED

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 4.—(UP)—Police today questioned a 24-year-old woman alleged to have induced three boys to steal coal for her. The youths were caught at a railroad yard.

Fire Damage At Local Grocery

Fire which started from an electric sealing iron used in the meat department at the new Standard Grocery on the east side of the square did about $200 in damages and for a few minutes looked as though it might be another serious down town fire Thursday evening.

The blaze was discovered by Reid Winsey, DePauw Art teacher who was passing the store. The flames were shooting half way to the ceiling when the fire department arrived. They had to break the glass in the front door to gain entrance as employees at the store had gone to a nearby restaurant only a few minutes before for a bite to eat.

The over-heated sealing iron, used in sealing cellophane on meats, was left on a pad and on a metal top table. The wood underneath caught fire and soon the grease was burning and a serious fire was in the making. Only the quick discovery of the fire and prompt action by the city fire department prevented a disastrous blaze.

Car Of Corn Is Food Train Goal

A goal of one railroad carload of corn was set as the goal for the Putnam County contribution to the Friendship Food Trains of the Christian Rural Overseas Program (CROP). It was decided at a meeting of the CROP committee this week.

This is the first year that Putnam County has participated in this nation wide rural relief movement, which is sponsored by Catholic Rural Life, Lutheran World Relief, and Church World Service (22 Protestant Denominations).

Organization is now proceeding the county to collect the carload of corn. Mr. Bigler said, during the week of November 6 to 13.

"Everyone in the county can help," he emphasized. "We need contributors, canvassers and organization helpers. At present, only six of the 13 townships of the county are organized. The support of the entire community is needed in this program dedicated to Christian Brotherhood."

He explained that bulk gifts are collected through CROP, although cash is accepted and used to buy exportable products. Overseas gifts are distributed through the church agency of the donor's choice to the aged, ill, orphaned and destitute, regardless of race, creed, or color.

The six townships which have set up organizations to collect corn for this year's carload include Russell Township, Shiro R. Evans and George M. Sliver co-chairmen; Franklin Township, Rev. John Pickering, chairman; Floyd Township, Mrs. Rose Hillis, chairman; Monroe Township, Rev. Jesse Dunn, chairman; Washington Township, Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Eggers, chairman; and Warren Township, Miss Elizabeth McClure, chairman.

Canvassing will be carried on from November 6 to 13; and the corn will be picked up in trucks on or about November 18. The Farm Bureau Co-op Elevator has offered all of its facilities for the loading of the car. The program is endorsed by the various churches of the county, by the Farm Bureau, and by the County Home Demonstration Agent's office.

BOYS IN JAIL HERE; ESCAPED AT PLAINFIELD

YOUNG PAIR CAUGHT IN CLAYTON; HAD ARSEN- AL IN BARN

Two teen-age boys, who escaped from the Indiana Boys' School at Plainfield and were apprehended in Clayton, are in the Putnam county jail pending a court appearance Saturday.

A dispatch from Danville says: "Two 16-year-old inmates of the Indiana Boys' School at Plainfield were apprehended Wednesday afternoon at Clayton after they escaped twenty-four hours previously, robbed guns and ammunition from the Belleville Hardware store, and set up an arsenal in a deserted barn north of Belleville."

Tom Beck of Terre Haute and Donald Hardwick of Evansville broke out of the school Tuesday night about 8 o'clock. Exit was gained through a window. The superintendent of the school was attending a Boy Scout meeting at the Danville Christian church when the escape was made. He was called from the meeting by Sheriff Leon Bayliss.

Hugh Odom was driving in the vicinity of Belleville Wednesday afternoon when he saw two boys hitchhiking. He picked up the two escapees. Beck had cuts and scratches on his face and Mr. Odom took him to Dr. Tracy O'Brien's office in Clayton. After dressing the wounds Dr. O'Brien called Sheriff Bayliss. He in turn notified State Police and the Boys' School officials.

After his wounds were dressed, Beck went to the Clayton telephone exchange and called his father at Terre Haute requesting that he come after him as he had been in an automobile accident.

By the time the call had been completed, Sheriff Bayliss, state troopers and school officials had arrived in Clayton and the boys were picked up on the street.

Sheriff Bayliss arrested the boys on charges of second degree burglary and carrying concealed weapons.

Beck and Hardwick became frightened after leaving the school Tuesday, and thought they were being chased by officers. Beck received his wounds when he ran into a fence. That same evening of the escape the boys entered the Belleville Hardware store. Entrance was gained by breaking the glass in the front door. They took a .22 Remington rifle, a .22 Remington automatic rifle, a .22 Remington revolver and shells for all the guns. Also included in the loot was a red plaid shirt, a pocket watch and a 2-cell flashlight. Altogether the items were valued at $150.

After escaping with the loot the boys stayed in a barn north of Belleville Tuesday night. They did not venture out until they decided to get treatment for Beck's wounds. It was then that Mr. Odom met them on the way to Clayton.

Officials found the arsenal in the barn and the clothing that had been taken was being worn by Beck and Hardwick. The boys claim they did not take the shot gun shells, but it is reported the guns were loaded and the boys made the statement that if necessary they would use the arms to make their get-away."

Schools Will Remain Open

Supt. Lee Zieg stated Friday morning that the city schools will be able to remain open for at least another two weeks providing weather conditions do not become too severe.

Mr. Zieg said that two of the school buildings were well supplied with coal while two other buildings, including the high school, had very little coal. However, by dividing the supply among the four buildings, he was of the opinion that school work can continue for two and perhaps three weeks if favorable weather continues.

President Gave Political Talk

ABOARD PRESIDENTIAL SPECIAL ENROUTE WASHINGTON, Nov. 4 (UP)—The Democratic battle lines for the 1950 congressional elections were drawn today by President Truman.

The Chief Executive traveled by train back to the White House from St. Paul, Minn., where he invited the nation's voters last night to follow up his 1948 election victory by throwing "reactionaries" of both parties out of congress.

He spoke last night before an audience of more than 12,000 persons.

His speech was labeled "non-partisan" but actually was about as non-partisan as a War headquarters speech.

Mr. Truman in earlier statements has virtually committed himself to a stupping tour next summer when he hopes to increase the Democratic majority in congress.

He told the "Truman Day" audience at St. Paul that he expected much more from the second session of the 81st congress than he did from the first session. And he forecast better results from an administration viewpoint next year.

Craig Admits Getting Letters

BRAZIL, Ind., Nov. 4.—(UP)—National Commander George Craig of the American Legion confirmed today that he has received anonymous letters threatening his baby daughter.

Some Legion officials believed the threatening notes came from enemies embittered by Craig's fighting speeches against Communism.

Craig denied, however, that state police had been detailed to guard his home. He dismissed the letters as similar to many from "religious fanatics such as many legion officials get."

However, city police insisted that seven state patrolmen were sent to guard four-month-old Margery Ellen Craig while her mother and father attended a "George Craig Day in Indiana" ceremony in the national commander's honor. Police Chief Fred Williams said he had asked state officers for assistance.

Craig said the state troopers merely were personal friends who dropped in from time to time to congratulate him on the honor paid him.

The state police post at nearby Putnamville said seven of its men were assigned to help control the 20,000 persons that jammed Brazil to help pay honor to Craig.

LEGION BACKS POLICIES OF SEC. JOHNSON

FAVORS UNIFICATION OF ARMED FORCES WITH CIVILIAN HEAD

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 4.—(INS)—Members of the American Legion's national executive committee came to Indianapolis today apparently committed to the policies of Defense Secretary Louis Johnson which have been violently opposed by the Navy.

The Legion policy was expressed last night by National Commander George N. Craig, who said the veterans' organization strongly supports unification of the armed forces and their control by a civilian.

Craig spoke at a homecoming celebration in Brazil, his home town, attended by some 25,000 persons and featuring a huge parade of 40 bands drum corps and 35 decorated floats. Morton Downey officiated at an all-star program preceding the Legion head's address.

Secretary Johnson and Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower are scheduled to address the executive committee in Indianapolis Saturday.

Craig said: "We are for unification of our armed forces. The lessons of unification learned on the battlefields of war must be put into practice in time of peace. We have succeeded in establishing the principle of unification and believe it can be made completely effective without the sacrifice of any of the glorious traditions of any of the branches of our armed forces."

Craig asserted that the determination of scientific weapon to be used is a decision that should be left to the military experts and added:

"Only specialists are qualified to make such decisions. The Legion strongly urges that one people repose confidence in our national leaders, both civilian and military. They have always given us winning leadership in time of war. We should not doubt their capacity to lead us in the fight to win the peace."

Craig declared that the Legion supports civilian control of the military establishment because "it is vital to our democracy."

Peacetime military training for youths also is a continuing Legion program, regardless of opposition, according to Craig. He scouted fears it will build a military hierarchy and said civilian control and congressional handling of the purse strings will forestall that possibility.

Craig said that when the United States Supreme Court affirms the conviction of the 11 Communist leaders, "action must be taken to bring every known Communist to trial or to deport him—we cannot afford to fight a Red fifth column at home if we have to fight another war."

A number of Republican Legionnaires attending the Brazil gathering said Craig might be a logical candidate for the G. O. P. gubernatorial nomination in 1952.

Plane Vanishes Off Quincy, Mass.

QUINCY, Mass., Nov. 4.—(UP)—Coast Guard and police vessels began a search early today for a Cincinnati, O., manufacturer believed to have crashed in his private airplane in the fog-covered waters off Quincy Point.

The missing pilot, C. McVicker, president of the Cinec Products Co., which manufactures wallpaper, became lost in the fog on a short flight from Groton, Conn., to Providence, R. I., to visit his son, Joseph, a Brown University student.

Last report of the craft came shortly before midnight when Police Lt. Charles Ferazzi heard the plane's low throttled engine as McVicker desperately hunted a landing field, then heard a crash that sounded "like thunder." Other witnesses also heard the crash.

Three Coast Guard boats and a police launch immediately put out to sea to search for the wreckage.

Six policemen were injured in the disorders and six men were jailed.

Advisory Board Makes Proposal

Mayor Harold Stewart announced Friday that the Greencastle Township Advisory Board had presented a proposal to the city for a 10-year contract at $4,000 per year for fire protection in the township.

The Mayor stated that this proposal is subject to the approval of the city council which had advanced a proposition based on a 5-year contract at $6,400 annually. Mayor Stewart said he did not know just how the council members will react to the Advisory Board's proposal but he believed that there will be fire protection for Greencastle township in the near future.

Bomber Crashes Killing Ten Men

HAMILTON, Bermuda, Nov. 4.—(UP)—Authorities sought the wreckage today of a U. S. Air Force B-29 Superfortress which crashed and burned in the sea 300 yards offshore near Kindley Field, killing 10 crew members and injuring three others.

The plane developed engine trouble after taking off on a routine weather mission at 6:17 o'clock last night. It turned back, made a routine run over the field and circled to land at 7:22 p. m. EST.

Instead of landing the plane smashed into the water 500 yards northwest of the field. It skittered along for 200 yards and then exploded.

The explosion ignited several thousand gallons of gasoline in the planes' tanks. The fire shot flames 100 feet into the air and continued to burn for 90 minutes.

Two Bermudians who witnessed the crash manned a small boat and rowed out to the plane. They picked up three men. One of the survivors was dead by the time they reached the hospital.

An Air Force crash boat picked up a fourth man. The bodies of nine others trapped in the burning plane have not yet been recovered. Names of the victims were withheld.

An Air Force spokesman said the pilot gave no radio warning that he was about to crash. Officials began an immediate investigation to determine the cause of the crash.

The explosion was heard for several miles and the burning plane attracted hundreds of on-lookers to the scene.

VIOLENCE IN HARLEM

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—(UP)—Police Commissioner William P. O'Brien sent 360 additional police to Harlem today to prevent another outbreak of violence like that which followed a "victory" rally last night by pro-Communist leaders in bail.

Six policemen were injured in the disorders and six men were jailed.

EXTRA!

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 4.—(INS)—Governor Henry F. Schricker today delayed making any reply to the second offer of United Mine Workers President John L. Lewis for separate coal strike peace talks.

Lewis proposed separate negotiations in Chicago tomorrow with Indiana and Illinois operators, and invited the Hoosier governor and Gov. Adlai Stevenson of Illinois to sit in as "moderators and representatives of the public interest."

At Indianapolis this afternoon Gov. Schricker said he was trying to get in touch with Gov. Stevenson before making any statement, but had not yet reached the Illinois chief executive.

TERRE HAUTE, Nov. 4.—

(INS)—Harvey Cartwright, commissioner of the Indiana Coal Operators Association, today rejected a proposal of United Mine Workers President John L. Lewis for a conference of operators and miners tomorrow to try to reach an independent settlement of the disastrous Indiana coal strike.

Cartwright said: "The position of the operators as expressed in a telegram we sent to Governor Henry F. Schricker Wednesday night. It remains unchanged."

The statement had said: "The issues involved are national in character and cannot be reconciled to district negotiations."

MIAMI, Nov. 4.—(INS)—A mail tropical storm that threatened Cuba and the northwestern Caribbean Sea yesterday was losing itself out over Honduras today.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—(INS)—The last missing body in the airplane disaster which killed 55 persons Tuesday was recovered today, nearly 72 hours after the mid-air collision of a P-38 fighter plane and an Eastern Airlines DC-4.

Meanwhile, new hope was held for the recovery of Eric Rios Brixoux, the P-38 pilot and the sole survivor of the tragedy.

Rios, who is director general of Bolivian civil aviation, suffered a relapse after a visitor told him that everyone aboard the airliner had been killed. However hospital officials said today that Rios' condition later took a turn for the better.

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 4.—The Executive Committee of the American Legion announced today that the 1950 national convention will be held during October 9-12 in Los Angeles, Calif.

GOVERNMENT TO MAKE NEW BID IN STRIKE

FEDERAL MEDIATOR CHING STATES HE WILL INTERVENE

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—(INS)—Federal Mediation Chief Cyrus Ching scheduled a conference today with John L. Lewis as the union leader proposed coal strike peace talks in Chicago tomorrow with Illinois and Indiana operators.

Ching arranged to meet the United Mine Workers president at union headquarters late this afternoon.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4. (UP)—The government planned to make one last bid today to settle the coal strike through mediation before restoring to more drastic action.

Federal Mediation Director Cyrus S. Ching said he would intervene in the 47-day-old strike before tonight. But he refused to say exactly what he would do.

Some officials predicted that Ching would try to arrange joint conferences here next week with John L. Lewis and the soft coal operators. They said these parleys would take place after the meeting in Chicago of Lewis' 200-member policy committee on Monday.

If the conferences fail to resolve the dispute, these officials said, Ching would have no alternative but to turn the controversy over to the White House for possible action under the Taft-Hartley law's emergency action.

Ching revealed his plans to re-enter the dispute while talking to reporters in New York last night. There were reports that he would try to get together with Lewis on his return to Washington today and arrange for next week's parleys.

The coal strike already had had serious effects on the national economy. Unless a break comes soon, observers feel, presidential action is inevitable.

Under the Taft-Hartley Act, the government may seek an 80-day no-strike injunction whenever the President decides that a walkout threatens the national health or safety. President Truman is known to be reluctant to make such a move since he is committed to the repeal of the Taft-Hartley law.

At present, no negotiations are in progress. The last joint parley broke down earlier this week when southern operators walked out of a conference with negotiators of the United Mine Workers in Bluefield, W. Va. They charged the union with refusing to bargain in good faith.

Lewis is seeking an increase in operator royalties to the UMW welfare fund, a wage increase for the miners, and a shorter work week.

The coal shortage already has reached the critical stage in some parts, especially in the Midwest. Acting independently, Govs. Adlai E. Stevenson of Illinois and Henry F. Schricker of Indiana have appealed to Lewis and the operators in their states to settle their differences and resume mining operations.

Lewis agreed to Schricker's proposal—a move that is in line with his usual policy of negotiating a favorable contract with one segment of the industry and then forcing the rest of the industry to go along on the same terms. But the Indiana mine owners rejected the idea.

"They said they were willing to negotiate with Lewis on a national basis, but not independently of the rest of the industry.

Lewis asked Schrickel yesterday to use his influence on two "millionaire" Indiana coal operators, who, he said, are preventing the separate conferences. He identified them as R. H. Sherwood, head of the Central Indiana Coal Co., and Hubert E. Howard.

The miners' chief said these two men control the Indiana coal operators.

Lewis has not replied to Stevenson's plea. A UMW spokesman said he has not yet received the governor's letter.

Army Displays

New Weapons

FT. BENNING, Ga., Nov. 4.—(UP)—The army today got underway a two-day display of its newest weapons and tactics to show the Defense, Navy and Air Force top brass that the infantry GI still packs a powerful combat punch.

Defense Secretary Louis Johnson ordered the civilian and military heads of the Navy and Air Force to accompany him here as the second phase of cross-education at the top level among the three armed services.

The Defense Secretary and the top command of the Army and Air Force recently spent a day aboard a navy aircraft carrier as the first step in getting the admirals and generals together on unification.

The army show came only two days after Adm. Forrest P. Sherman succeeded Adm. Louis E. Denfeld in a move to end anti-unification squabbling by some rebellious admirals.

Sherman was scheduled to accompany Johnson back to Washington this afternoon.

However, the infantry show will continue through tomorrow noon for Navy Secretary Francis P. Matthews, Air Secretary W. Stuart Symington, and Gen. Hoyt S. Vandenberg, air chief of staff.

Army Secretary Gordon Gray and Gen. J. Lawton Collins, army chief of staff—the civilian and military leader, respectively, of the host service—were unable to attend the first part of the combat show because of previous engagements.

About 70 representative civilian leaders, attending the defense department's fifth orientation conference, also viewed the demonstration. Today's exercise included a display of post-war infantry firepower climaxed by a "mad minute" with a mass of all types of weapons firing at the same time.

Another phase called for an airborne invasion by paratroopers supported by jet fighter planes.

Jeffersonville Is Behind Students In Protesting Expulsion By Ihsaa

JEFFERSONVILLE, Ind., Nov. 4 (UP)—The entire community flung its weight today behind high school students who walked out on "strike" to force state athletic officials to let their basketball team compete for the state title.

Temper boiled over yesterday and almost everybody in town turned out last night for a big demonstration and protest parade that lasted three hours.

About 800 of the high school's 1,100 students left their classes shortly after the State High School Athletic Association announced that the Jeffersonville Red Devils had been suspended from state competition for allegedly bringing two team prospects from the high school nearby Silver Creek.

As word of the suspension spread through the town's gathering places, residents expressed their sympathy in concrete terms.

The town's feeling was climaxed last night in a parade of the striking students, their parents and other supporters, carrying placards with such legends as: "No team, no ball, no school."

Meanwhile 98 business and professional leaders signed a petition, protesting the suspension and presented it to the school board.

The petition said the Athletic Association's action had put the rights of the signers' children in "jeopardy." It indicated that school officials would confer at Indianapolis today with the board of control of the association.

High School Athletic Commissioner L. V. Phillips said, however, that he had no appointment with the local board.

Phillips said he told Emory V. Theiss, Jeffersonville's principal, that the local officials "would have to get the students back in school" before the matter could be discussed.

"That's their problem," Phillips said, "and I think they should settle it."

There was little indication that the 800 strikers would join their 300 non-striking classmates in returning to the gloom-ridden high school today.

They burned Phillips in effigy at the end of the long parade in a demonstration as large as if they had won the state title from which they feel they have been barred.

With his wife caused the delay, O'Brien said the dispatcher also would be questioned.

Vet Forced To Shoot Father

SANFORD, Fla., Nov. 4

(UP)—A 30-year-old ex-paratrooper was hysterical and under doctor's care today after shooting his father to death to keep the older man from killing five relatives with a hatchet.

Authorities had only a sketchy account of the death of Edwin Otis Keith, Sr., who was killed last night by a single bullet from the gun of his son, Edwin Otis Keith, Jr.

Officers hoped that young Keith and his family would calm down sufficiently today to tell a coroner's jury what happened.

Sheriff P. A. Mero, piecing together the incoherent statements of the Keith family, gave the following account of the slaying.

The elder Keith a 60-year-old carpenter, had been helping his son finish a new house when for some unexplained reason he went berserk.

Grabbing a hatchet, he cornered Keith, Jr., his wife and baby son, and his aunt and her 21-year-old son and began shouting that he was going to kill them all.

Keith Jr. apparently managed to escape from the room and ran to get a .45 revolver. When he got back his father was slashing with the hatchet at young Keith's wife and baby.

As the older man barely miss-

Looking at Life

ERICH BRANDEIS

Let us look at this matter of strikes from a strictly human point of view.
The best way to do that, I think, is to take a specific case.

After five-and-a-half-months the Singer Sewing Machine Company strike was settled some days ago.

The striking employees voted to accept a new contract which grants none of the major demands over which they walked out on May 2.

According to reports, the walk-out cost 7,500 members of the union involved an estimated twelve million dollars in wages. That is $1600 for each striker.

Now let us say that the strike had brought each of the workers an extra ten cents an hour.

In order to make up for the loss caused by idleness they would have to work 16,000 hours each to have the increase repay them for this loss.

Or, figure it any way you

Want to, a 168-day loss of pay is a pretty poor investment on such a small return.

No matter how you look at it, what is gained by a strike?

Has anything ever been accomplished by a strike that could not have been accomplished much more quickly and cheaply by sitting down as human beings and talking things over the way people settle family differences or business between "equals"?

Please notice that I have put "equals" in quotation marks. Because in reality employers and employees are equals.

But, somehow, rabble rousers have established an idea that there is a difference between Capital and Labor, that Capital considers itself superior to Labor and tries to exploit it.

"Capital" to use that foolish expression for a moment, would be stupid indeed to bite the hand that feeds it.

Not that it has not been done in the past—else we would not have this feeling of antagonism between Capital and Labor.

But, in my opinion, no halfway intelligent member of "Capital" is foolish enough to imagine that he could long remain in the "Capital" category if he did not realize that Labor is entitled to its share and has a right to demand it.

An America without Capital, which is the basis of all free enterprise, would be about the same as an army without officers.

In every free undertaking there must be leaders and followers. No person in his right mind will maintain that the leaders who have put years of planning and studying and millions of dollars into their enterprises are not entitled to more money than those whose only investment is eight hours a day.

Nor will anyone in his right mind maintain that the stockholder who invests his savings in an enterprise is not entitled to a fair return on the money which he himself earned and had the wisdom to lay by.

Unfortunately there are too many false leaders who use Labor for their own enrichment and fattening. If they had to serve without pay while their unions are on strike, I wonder how many strikes there would be.

I don't say I am right. That's just the way it looks to me from where I sit.
